Car Wash Industry honors veterans and military personnel on November 11th through the Grace for Vets FREE wash program.

Lancaster, PA (November 1, 2011) - Mike Mountz, owner of Cloister Wash & Lube (www.cloistercarwash.com) in Ephrata PA, founded Grace for Vets in 1998. Car washes from across the United States, Canada, Australia and New Zealand will unite together on November 11th to honor military service under the Grace for Vets Program, by giving FREE washes to those that have and are serving. To-date over 700 car wash operators have registered to give FREE washes, totaling over 1,600 wash locations where military personnel can get a FREE car wash on November 11th.

Veterans and current military personnel can find participating washes at www.graceforvets.org under the 2011 participants tab. Washes continue to register so military service personnel should check back if a wash in their area isn't registered, or they can contact Grace for Vets at info@graceforvets.org. There's no cost for washes to register or participate in the Grace for Vets Program.
